Joseph Mercantile Co.

(Incorporated.)

B. G. Fox, of Danville, will be here County court day to buy one hundred suckling mules.

Renting.

Mr. Arch K. Walker gets the Poor House farm for next year agreeing to provide for the paupers and give $470 to the Fiscal court.

H. C. Hamilton has purchased a lot of J. R. Haselden at the corner of Richmond street and Herring avenue. He will erect a cottage at once.

The Ladies Working Society, of the Fork church will give a supper Friday night at the school house near the church. Every body invited.

Correction.

Mr. J. R. Mount was appointed chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, for this county, instead of chairman of the regular Democratic committee, which our types said. Mr. W. G. Gooch is still chairman of the last named Committee.

Rue & Curry sold Thursday for the Alameda Brown heirs their farm of 172 acres on Salt River, 5 miles north west of Harrodsburg, and 140 acres for J. W. Powell, adjoining the Brown heirs to Rankin Clemens, of Fayette, both at $58 per acre. Possession on Jan. 1, 1908.

The Cheapest Place.

A well-to-do man in the vicinity of a neighboring town went to a drug store and asked the price of sulphur. "Ten cents a pound," said Doc. "Isn't that pretty high?" asked the customer. "Why I can get it of my mail order house for seven cents." "You can get it of hell for nothing," said Doc, "and you won't have to pay any freight, either."

Wasn't A Mind Reader.

A groceryman, of this city, just happened around when a farmer was unloading several boxes filled with groceries, which he had ordered from Chicago department stores.

The groceryman asked the farmer the prices of the articles purchased and then told him he could sell just as cheap. The farmer then said: "Is that so? I take the home paper, but you seldom or never advertise, and if you do, you never quote prices on what you have. The Chicago stores advertise. I am not a mind reader."

The Christian Endeavor, of Pleasant Grove, held its regular meeting Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock at the church, conducted by the Prayer meeting committee, subject, "The Value of Decision." The meeting was opened with prayer by the Pastor. The Scripture lesson was read by Miss Mae Robinson. A paper by Miss Dahn on "How Decision Succeeds," also readings by Misses Royston and Simpson, a duet by the Misses Leavell and a talk by the Pastor. The next meeting will be held Sunday morning, immediately after Sunday School. Subject, "Foreign Mission" leader, Miss Mary Wilson. Special music every meeting.

Act Like Hogs.

When one hog gets an ear of corn every other hog will trot along behind and squeal and beg and is ready for a bite but just let that hog get his head fast in crack of a fence and every son of a sow will jump on and help tear him to pieces. Just so it is with men. As long as a man is prosperous and has plenty of money he can't keep his friends off with a baseball bat. The moment he is unfortunate and his wealth is gone he is not only snubbed by his former friends but they begin to do him all the harm possible. When a man starts down grade the world steps to one side and greases the track.

Oh, Consistency, Where Art Thou.

We read an exchange of a certain editor who had a long and carefully prepared article on the importance of patronizing home merchants rather than sending off for their goods. The article was so good that it attracted the attention of the merchants, and they highly recommended the loyalty of the editor. One merchant was so favorably impressed with the article that he sat down and wrote a congratulatory letter to the pencilpusher, the letter-head the merchant used had been printed in Louisville, and the return on the envelope was made with a rubber stamp furnished by a Chicago angle grease firm.

Before and After.

For twelve months before they were married she never came down town without seeing him. If she walked one block away he managed to be waiting for her on the half shell. If she carried a package as weighty as a spool of thread, he took it from her by force for fear she would break a nail. He wanted to call on her every night, and would have done so, if her father had been dead. He just simply existed and that was all, when out of her presence. He was so considerate of her feelings he never went near her after taking a drink until he had thoroughly overhauled and deodorized his breath. Twelve months after that they were married, and if he saw her down town, he darted in a screen door to keep her from seeing him. He saw her pass by with a big heavy bundle; but he never went out and offered to carry the load. Perhaps he was already loaded himself. He usually made it home after supper and then went down town on important business. This is what I call before and after taking.—Sam Jones.

The Official Board of the Methodist church voted unanimously to have Rev. F. M. Hill appointed Presiding Elder of this district at conference in September which meets in Frankfort. Mr. Hill had charge of the church here for four years and has since held several revivals and is considered one of the ablest ministers in the Kentucky conference.

Yerkes' Aid Wanted.

A special from Washington Saturday says: Friends of former Internal Revenue Commissioner John W. Yerkes here believe that President Roosevelt wants him to help prosecute trusts, and that the matters were discussed at luncheon with Attorney General Boneparte at Oyster Bay yesterday. The President and Boneparte are known to think highly of Mr. Yerkes' legal ability. Trust prosecutions are greatly delayed, and more legal talent is needed by the Department of Justice. Yerkes' friends cannot explain his Oyster Bay trip on any other theory than that he was offered a special Assistant Attorney General ship. He left here hurriedly Thursday afternoon on crutches, and his recovery is expected to be delayed as a result. It is stated at his apartments that he will return to-morrow.

At church Sunday night Gus Travers opened wide his mouth in a prodigious yawn. It was an unlucky act, for, as he did so, he sucked a large bug into his throat. The effect of this mishap upon him was instantaneous and startling. With eyeballs starting from their sockets and shoulders hunched, he leaped to his feet, clutching wildly at his windpipe. For a brief moment a spasm of violent coughing shook his frame; then, bending forward with outstretched neck, he began to emit loud gurgling sounds and strange guttural whoops. This explosive vocal outburst in connection with such grotesque bodily contortions very naturally attracted the attention of every body in church. It also caused the minister to pause in his sermon and take notice. At length by a supreme effort Travers dislodged and ejected the offender and sat down, but not before several persons in his immediate vicinity had got up and walked out of church. It was probably a good thing for Travers, anyway, for it cannot be said that a church is the proper place to yawn in. It is not a dormitory. No man need stretch his mouth there except to sing. This experience of Travers will perhaps stop him from yawning in church, for a while at any rate, and it will also undoubtedly restrain others who may be tempted to such impoliteness in a public assembly.

Circuit Court.

Judge Bell began court on Monday by delivering an able charge to the Grand Jury. All the officers are on hand discharging their duties faithfully. The court will be busy during the entire term of three weeks. Sheriff Arnold went to Jessamine county, on Tuesday, to summon 50 men out of whom a jury could be found to try Samuel Jennings for killing Mase Miller, which trial will consume the balance of the week. John Simpson, accused of the murder of Bud Casey, was discharged from custody. A few cases for minor offenses have been heard. The following comprise the jurors:

GRAND JURY.

R. A. Beazley, form'n, Jas Gay, O. J. Hendren, Wm Duncan, E. G. Creech, Smith Hurt, Will Ralston, R. R. Denton, Wesley Bourne, Chas Poindexter, Cyrus Daly, J. F. Ruble.

PETIT JURY.

Wm Lackey, Floyd Curtis, Will Royston, Ed Price, J. A. Cotton, Wm Lear, Reuben Prather, R. L. Burton, Leslie Bradshaw, J. W. Bryant, N. H. Bogle, W. K. Leavell, Ed Scott, Kemp Walker, Ed Cook, Walker Logan, James Burnside, Lish Forbes, J. E. Anderson, Logan Ison, Tim Ford, Frank Holtzclaw, J. H. Posey.

"There is no music in a rest, but there is the making of music in it." In our whole life melody the music is broken off here and there by "rests" and we foolishly think we have come to the end of the tune. God sends a time of forced leisure, sickness, disappointed plans, frustrated efforts, and makes a sudden pause in the choral hymn of our lives, and we lament that our voices must be silent, and our part missing in the music which ever goes up to the ear of the Creator. How does the musician read the rest? See him beat the time with unvarying count and catch up the next note true and steady as if no breaking place had come in between. Not without a design does God write the music of our lives. Be it ours to learn the time, and not be dismayed at the "rests." They are not to be sturred over, not to be omitted, not to destroy the melody, not to change the key note. If we look up, God Himself will beat the time for us. With the eye on Him, we shall strike the next note full and clear.

If we say sadly to ourselves, "There is no music in a rest," let us not forget "there is the making of music in it." The making of music is often a slow and painful process in this life. How patiently God works to teach us! How long He waits for us to learn the lesson!—John Ruskin.

Boy's Composition On Girls.

The following is a boy's composition on "Girls." "Girls is sisters of boys, and has long bare, wares dresses and powder. The fust girl was called Christmas Eve, though I never could tell why. Most every family has one girl and some of them that's in hard luck has two or three. We have a girl in ourn who is my sister. Girls can grow older and yet younger. My sister has been 25 years for three years and sum day we may be twins. Girls play the planner and talk about each other. Fat girls want to be thin and thin girls want to be fat, and all of them want to marry doods. Why the Lord made girls nobody knows, but I think it was to go to church and eat ice cream. There is three kinds of girls—brunet girls, blond girls, and them that has money. Girls are afraid of mice and bugs, which makes it fun to put 'em down their backs."

CENTRAL RECORD

ISSUED WEEKLY. $1.00 A YEAR.

LOUIS LANDRAM, Edr.-Pubr.

Member Ky. Press Association.

Lancaster, Ky., August 23, 1907.

Winchester Democrat:— Saturday night seems to have the happy faculty of making people human; set their hearts to beating softly as they used to do before the world turned them in to war drums and jarred them to pieces with tattoos. On Saturday night the ledger closes with a bang, the iron barred vault comes to with a bang, click goes the key in the lock. It is Saturday night and the business man breathes free again. Homeward, ho! The door that has been ajar all the week gently closes behind, and the world is all shut out. Shut out? Shut in, rather. At home are all his treasures after all, and not in the vault and not in the book—save the record in the old family Bible—and not in the bank. Maybe you are a bachelor, frosty and forty. Then, poor fellow, Saturday night is nothing to you, just as you are nothing to any body. Get a wife, blue-eyed or black-eyed, but above all, true-eyed. Get a little home—no matter how little—a sofa just to hold two, or two and a half, in it on a Saturday night and then read this paragraph by the light in your wife's eyes, and thank God and take courage. How many a kiss has been given, how many a curse how many a caress, how many a look of hate, how many a kind word, how many a promise has been broken, how many a soul lost, how many a loved one lowered into the narrow chamber, how many a babe has gone from earth to heaven, how many a little crib or cradle stands silent now which last Saturday night held the rarest of treasures of the heart. A week is a life. A week is a history. A week marks events of sorrow and gladness which people never heard. Go home to your family, man of business! Go home, you heart wanderer! Go home to the chair that awaits you, wronged wife on life's breakers! Go home to those you love, man of toil, and give one night to the joys and comforts fast flying by! Leave your books with complex figures, your dirty shop, your busy store! Rest with those you love, for God only knows what the next Saturday night will bring you! Draw close around the family hearth; Saturday night has awaited your coming in sadness, in tears and silence. Go home to those you love, and as you bask in the loved presence and meet to return the loved embrace of your hearts' pets, strive to be a better man, and bless God for giving his weary children so dear a stepping stone in the river to the eternal, as Saturday night.

PAINT LICK.

A DOZEN HUNDRED.

NUMBER OF CLASSES AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

PRIZES AGGREGATE $25,000.

Every Department Will Be Filled With the Cream of Displays From Other Fairs.

Fairs—International, national, state county and municipal—have been held almost since civilization had its beginning, and passing years have not only not dimmed their light but have served to make it more brilliant. At no time perhaps in the history of Kentucky have there been so many county fairs as have been held or will be held in the state during 1907. The number has grown to more than fifty. These county fairs serve to draw all classes closer together and it is fitting that they should form the spokes of the big hub which is known as the Kentucky State Fair.

The State Board of Agriculture, early in maturing the plans for this year's exhibition, which will be held in Louisville, September 16 to 21, arranged to have personal representatives at all of these fairs. These representatives have carried with them catalogues of exhibits and premiums, and attractive advertising matter. At every place they have met a most cordial welcome. Exhibitors, both of live stock and in other departments, were solicited and it is in no sense an exaggeration to say that the cream of the exhibits of every county fair will meet in competition at the Kentucky State Fair.

At the September exhibition, the competition will be for prizes that aggregate $25,000 in cash. The classification covers horses, mules, jack stock, beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep, goats, poultry, colts, dogs, pigeons, tobacco, field seed and grain, melons and vegetables, plants and flowers, woman's work, children's work and table luxuries.

There are 1,175 different rings in which good money is offered, while there are a total of over 300 different lots. The horse money is divided among horses suitable for light harness, five-gaited saddlers, roadsters, combined harness and five-gaited saddlers, American carriage, three-gaited, plantation saddlers, runabouts, high steppers, Shetland ponies, thoroughbreds, and what are classed as fine horses. The mule premiums are most elaborate on pairs and single horse and single mare mules, while good money is offered on jacks and jennies.

In beef cattle, the classification is complete on Short-horns, Herefords, Polled Durhams, Aberdeen-Angus and Red Polls. Most attractive premiums are offered in the dairy cattle department for Jerseys, Holstein-Friesians, Ayrshires, and Guernseys.

The swine department includes Berkshires, Duroc-Jerseys, Poland-Chinas, Chester Whites, Tamworths, Yorkshires, Hampshires, etc. The money for sheep is divided among Shropshires, Cotswolds, South Downs, American Merinos, Oxford Downs, Hampshires and Dorsets. Interesting classifications are arranged for bucks and does in the Angora Goat Department. The poultry premium list covers every known fowl in which this section of the country is interested and the same is true of the pigeon department.

Recognizing the great interest that farmers are displaying in the Collie Dog, as the successor of the Shepherd, a department is given to the former and some very handsome money offered. The departments for vegetables and melons, tobacco, field seed and grain, cover premiums that will appeal to all who are growers of these products. In horticulture there are scores of awards in cash to be made on apples, peaches, pears, grapes, etc. Plants and flowers are not neglected and the money offered should prove a great inducement both to the amateur with the hothouse, and to the professional florist.

In no department is there a more interesting collection of premiums than in that set aside for woman's work, children's work and table luxuries. It is confidently expected that farm implements and machinery will be shown to a much larger extent than ever before at a Kentucky State Fair.

Ball Bros., of Woodford county, are showing their faith in their horse, Montgomery Chief, in a most substantial way. They are offering $250 in two special premiums for best 1907 foal of Montgomery Chief and for best foal of any age of Montgomery Chief, at the Kentucky State Fair.

The concerts daily at the Kentucky State Fair by Nativello and his premier band of fifty all-star artists from the "Land of Music" should prove an announcement that should strike joy to the hearts of everyone at all musically inclined.

There Comes a Time of course, when even the thought of clothes is a burden. But no matter how hot it is, you've got to wear them.

Have them as thin as you can; if you're not provided with thin clothes, we have some for you; the kind the wind blows through.

They're Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes; never too light or too thin to be all-wool and carefully tailored. They'll keep shape.

The prices are as thin as the goods; very light; almost nothing to them.
